Dr. Elmer Beecher Russell

D E D I C A T I O N

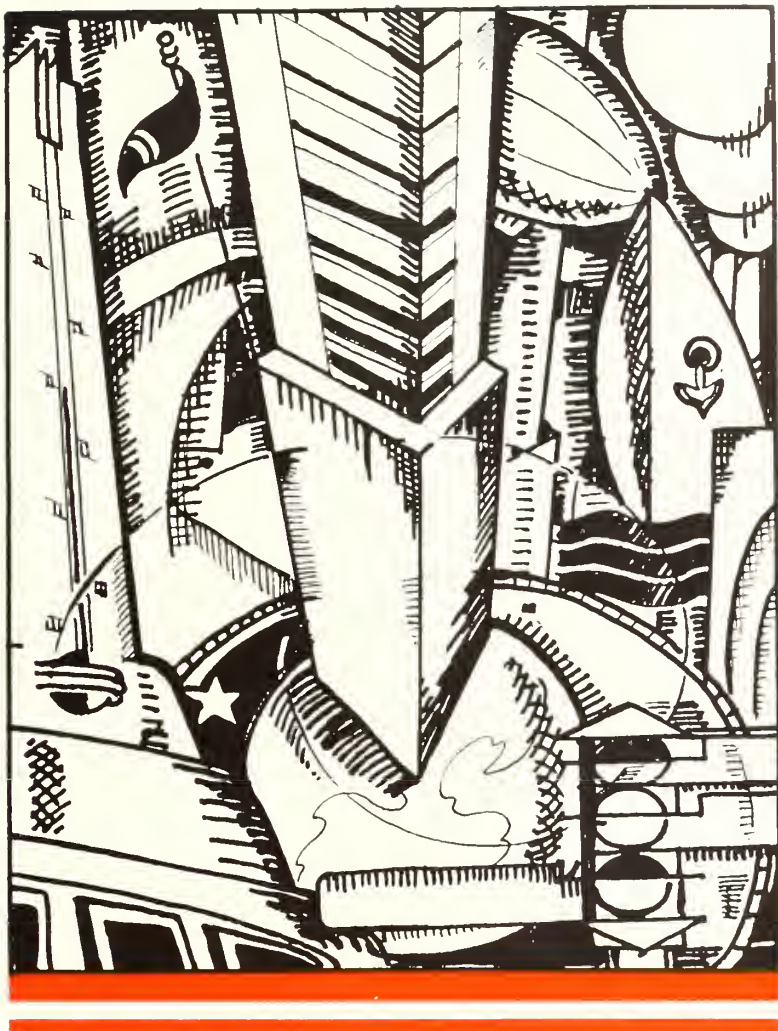

To Dr. Elmer Beecher Russell, since nineteen twenty-one Professor of History at Westminster, — thinker, progressive, friend of both the past and future, respecting tradition and welcoming change, — we of the class of nineteen thirty-five dedicate Volume XXX of the Argo.

T H E F O R E W O R D

The Century of Progress, constructed on new ideas and ideals, and its revelation — man's tremendous achievement in enlarging his comforts and widening his opportunities — has inspired the theme of the nineteen thirty-five Argo. In the progress of the century to come, Westminster's graduates will find their challenging task: contributing to the widening spiritual and material horizons of mankind.

SPIRIT OF WESTMINSTER

Into all the ways of life for almost a century, Westminster has sent men and women dedicated to the task of building a better and a more spiritual world. The spirit of Westminster takes cognizance of the achievements of the past and dreams of the future; Westminster values the traditions of her honorable yesterdays, and faces confidently the task of creating more abundant tomorrows.

*Against the dark sky a shining tower
the substance of his dream*

DR. W. CHARLES WALLACE
PRESIDENT OF WESTMINSTER COLLEGE
1916 « » 1931

OLD MAIN MEMORIAL

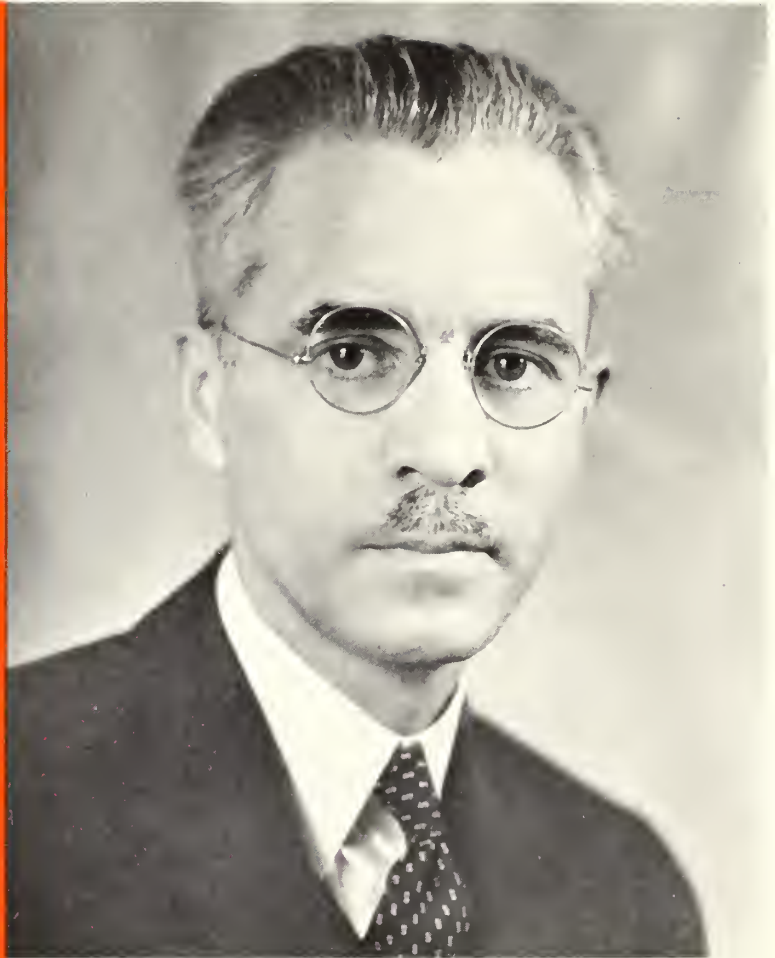

Devoted to a high ideal of the Westminster that was to be, the school today is a monument to his vision, his labors, his hopes.

R. W. CHARLES WALLACE was president of Westminster College for a period of fifteen years, from September, 1916 to June, 1931. More real progress was made in this period than in any other fifteen-year period in Westminster history. Confronted with many perplexing problems of college administration, Dr. Wallace personally conducted the arduous task of revising and liberalizing the curriculum, of raising the standard of scholarship, of increasing the endowment, of planning and erecting new buildings, and of enlarging the campus. Let Westminster today stand as a record of his achievement. The college was given its Class A rating, the endowment grew to over three quarters of a million dollars, the campus more than doubled in size, and half of the buildings that were designed for the quadrangle were erected. Truly, a remarkable accomplishment for so short a time!

A fine scholar, a product of the "classical" education, possessed of a keen, analytical mind, Dr. Wallace excelled as a preacher. His sermons to the students and faculty were masterful in their critical analyses of the texts and in the superlative beauty of the diction. He will live long in the memory of those who knew him well and who appreciated his unusual ability. "Old Main Memorial", with its beautiful chapel and its shining tower overlooking the campus, stands as a fitting monument to a fine scholar and a great executive.

I N M E M O R I A M

The splendid loyalties of life have many means of expression. On a college campus there is needed the quiet, steadfast loyalty of the teacher and there is a place for the more vocal loyalty of the enthusiastic friend.

Westminster College found each of these types of loyalty in the lives of —

Main events in the life of the seniors as a class were necessarily connected with graduation and graduation week. The Senior Sing, Baccalaureate, and Commencement itself were the three featured activities of that week. In addition, the annual Senior Dance was given in the latter part of May, which was appreciatively attended by the entire student body. We wish to congratulate the class for their success of the past four years, three of which were under the capable direction of Elmer Meider. In parting may we wish you a future of progress, adding golden links to history's chain of events. Bon Voyage!

'35

With David Harris as president, and Glen Momeyer as vice-president, the junior class quite successfully completed their most difficult and responsible year. The Prom, the publication of the Argo, and acting as hosts on Homecoming Day comprised the three major functions which they ably performed. Transformed to the terrace of a mansion, the College Gym was the setting of the Prom, held April 27. Amid colorful surroundings, smartly gowned women and men in black and white danced to nationally known music. High standards set by previous year books were again attained by the Argo of 1935. Home-Coming Day found the members of the junior class performing their duties as hosts to Alumni and friends.

'36

The sophomore class elected as their officers for the year president, Robert Willison; vice-president, Albert Koper; secretary, Virginia Rumbaugh; treasurer, Dorothy Covert; and student council, William Offutt and Isabel Reed. Enforcing freshman regulations and meting out punishment to those who chose to disobey was the biggest activity of the year. Stunt Day put the freshmen in their power.

'37

Charles Jones was the freshman class's choice to lead in their activities for the year, and to start them on their college career. As a whole, the class had very few functions, most of them relating to regulations. Stunt Day, in charge of the sophomore class, provided them an opportunity to entertain the rest of the student body with a series of foolish antics and amusing stunts.

INTRODUCTION

Well, we sure had a wow of a year here at old Westminster as far as things pertaining to football were concerned. We had a team which was the feline's sleeping togs right up to the time we hit Slippery Rock, then, as Will Shakespeare once said, the worm turned. From then on the ink was mostly used for our adversaries' score.

However, I'm not trying to hand out false statements when I says Lady Luck was usually on the wrong side (the other).

But don't fall for the line of bologna that we had a lousy outfit. Quite the vice-versa, our boys never gave up hope and kept at their gallant efforts right up to the blowing of the last whistle.

Personally, I think they were the real McCoy and that the next falling of leaves will bring some victories which are more than moral.

In round numbers the season came off something like this:

"Coming events cast their shadows before them" some wit once said. Well, Slippery Rock cast a nice black shadow of our coming season by traveling to this slab on September 23, and beating the home town lads by the score of 13-6. It looked like our affair in the beginning, but the bottom bounds soon changed that.

Our ball toters next took a crack at Saint Bonaventure in Olean, N. Y. It seems that the old Alma Mammy outplayed the saints most of the time with the exception of the third period. Those Bonnie lads from Olean managed to get across 19 points in that period which helped some as the score ended 32-13. Bloker, Arrowsmith, Sweeney, Staples, Leyshock, and Laraway showed some pleasant possibilities for the future in this tilt.

SLIPPERY ROCK WAS OUR FIRST

This fray demonstrated to the world that Westminster had a team worthy of recognition in that they went down to a glorious defeat at the hands of a brilliant adversary.

I would like to say that we next walloped Geneva at Beaver Falls and I could say it for that matter but it's a hobby of mine to tell the truth on the slightest provocation. What actually happened was that we took the walloping from our sister knowledge mint, to the tune of 20-0. This guy Grahame sure passes a pretty pig skin and October 7 was no exception.

The Thiel game was the trout's necktie. Westminster showed the residents of Greenville how football should be played. Quite a few faithful fans who had breezed northward for the brawl were disappointed neither in the score sheet nor the weather. The Lutherans didn't seem to relish the idea of taking one on the chin but when the battle was over, the digits were arranged thusly: 14-0 with Westminster on top. Don't you love that?

Well, the night of October 31 the traveling Titan lads met disaster as bad as that which befell their namesake, the Titan-ic. Really they seemed as much out of place as a yacht on a desert. Our gallant boys tried hard but it was a plain case of no can do. Their line plunges rolled off the Dukes like water rolls off oilskin. The way Elm Layden humiliated us by putting in his second, third, fourth, etc., teams made me positively red headed, but nothing could be done about the situation.

Grove City painted our place of abode red the night before our annual duel and it turned out that our faces were to take on a similar hue the next day. The game at New Castle was very scenario amid parades, cheers, etc., etc., and even etc. All this helped little as we were flicked by the tally of 12-0.

The Titans bounded back for homecoming Day and found Muskingum and the alumnae waiting. The day was as cold as an Eskimo's nose and it took the managers and frosh most of the A.M. throwing off enough snow to find the field. Quite a mob braved the well known elements to see the exhibition, which was a good one. Oh, yes, I forgot to mention that we lost the game, 6-0, and that does make a difference, doesn't it?

STUDENT MANAGER GREER

May Allah be praised, as they say in Volant. We won another game. Case, the team in question came to our abode from Cleveland, Ohio, expecting to give us the familiar works. To their (and our) surprise they discovered about eleven men who thought differently. We really gave them a lacing and the score of 6-0 does not indicate how bad it was. This guy Sweeney was all over the field at once and the star of the scrap.

Sixteen members of the football squad who qualified for letters are as follows:—Arrowsmith, Burry, Franklin, Hollander, Hunneke, Laraway, Leyshock, LoBuono, Mintz, Reniers, Sweeney, Staples, Scarborough, Siljander, Straw, and Watt. Nelson Greer, Student Manager, also received a letter. Of these, Hollander and Siljander are the only men to be lost by graduation. Bloker who won a letter last year will also be lost to the Titans. Laraway and Mintz were the only Freshmen players to win their letters.

Leyshock was picked as All Conference end for the 1933 season.

downing John Marshall of Jersey City 30-18 and Upsala College of East Orange, New Jersey 41-18.

Not content with an even break with eastern colleges the Titans returned home and proceeded to trounce Adrian 49-19 and Wheaton 56-30. Both of these games were played during the Christmas holidays.

Grove City fans did not have much to talk about after January 5. For years Grove City had beaten us on their own floor and many times had marred our conference record. Their floor had become a jinx to Westminster until that date, but no more! After forty minutes of hectic battle Westminster

There isn't much doubt in anyone's mind as to who had the best team in the conference this year. Not only did we win the tri-state conference but also placed second in the district, and just about took a monopoly on the all-star teams. Bennett, besides being high-scorer in the nation, was given honorable mention on the All-American team. Here is some of the data that has been compiled: Out of twenty-six games played during the season, Westminster won twenty-two, and lost four, won all the tri-state conference games and averaged 42.9 points per game to 25.3 for opponents.

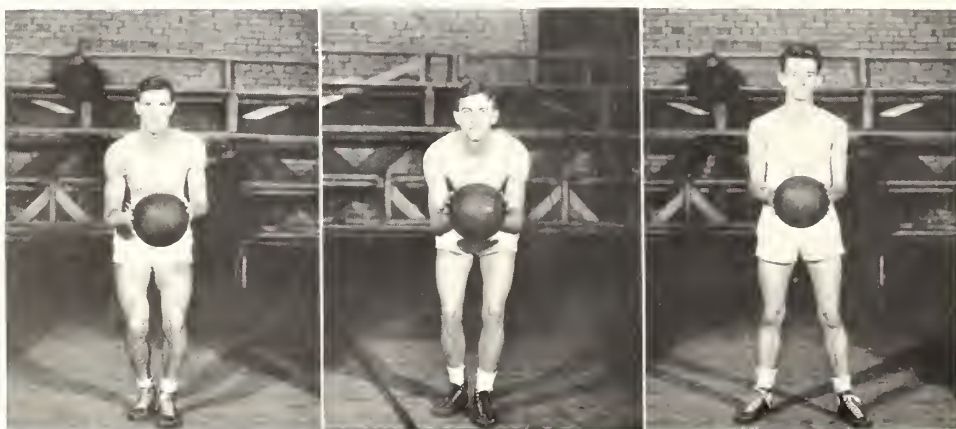

Letter-men were Douglass (captain), Bennett, Wilhelm, Hunneke, Sweeney, Leyshock, and Willits.

The team lost two out of four games on a Christmas vacation trip down East. St. Thomas tripped the Titans 29-26 and City College of New York did likewise to the tune of 25-13. The boys made a comeback in the next two games emerged victorious with the lopsided score of 50-15. Bennett garnering twenty-two points led the Titans in their initial conference game.

Glennville State Teachers' college, champions of West Virginia, offered opposition the next evening. Just to show that they had not faltered in their stride the Lawthermen proceeded to drub the mountaineers 56-24.

The Duquesne game was a much-heralded affair and was played in the Pitt stadium before a large crowd. The Titans were slow in starting and the Dukes had the game almost won at half-time. Westminster made a thrilling comeback in the closing moments of the play but fell short by four points, Duquesne winning 35-31.

Slippery Rock State Teachers' college arrived here January 13 and although tired from the Duke game Lawther's team went smoothly to a 45-20 victory over the visitors.

Our second conference game was at home with Waynesburg and was another victory, 42-27. Waynesburg was rated as one of the chief contestants for the Tri-state Conference and so the future looked rosy for Westminster.

At one time a powerful rival, Allegheny proved no match for the towering Titans and we walloped them 46-22 at Meadville.

Edinboro, the team that had upset us last year came within ten points of our score on our own gym floor. The score was 41-31. According to scores this game was the closest we came to being defeated on our home floor during the season.

Supposed to be our closest rival in the conference race, Geneva, was left by the wayside, bewildered by Westminster's quick start and steady follow-up. The score tells the story, 58-21. Bennett had 27 points. The game was played at Westminster.

The Titans took a two day trip south and captured two more conference victories. Waynesburg; 45-31. Bethany, 36-23.

On February 19 the Lawther outfit took their twelfth straight victory by defeating Allegheny at home to the terrific count of 45-10.

Slippery Rock gave us a better fight on their floor, in fact a real contest in the last half. However the final tabulations showing 37-25 in favor of the visiting team. Continuing their superior ball playing, the United Presbyterians defeated the Lutherans of Thiel 44-28 at Greenville.

Sharon was the scene of one of the most spirited tilts of the season. The participants were Westminster and Duquesne. The latter had a slight edge due to their previous victory. Westminster desired revenge and a chance at the district championship. After a see-saw fight during most of which Westminster was on top the Titans emerged with a 37-34 victory. Many were the spectators, cheers, and fouls.

Bethany was our next conference foe and fell as the others had, the score 47-28; the place, New Wilmington.

SCARBOROUGH

Two days later we went on invitation to Pittsburgh to play Pitt. Our big chance had come, but Pitt ended up with six points more than our 26. Sad to say, we were leading 16-11 at the half-way mark. The game was by no means a one-sided affair and showed our team ranked with the best.

Two return games away with Edinboro and Geneva ended in victory for the Blue and White. The scores were: 45-30 and 34-27 respectively. The Geneva game was close and at all times an exciting contest.

The last two games were at home. The first game was Westminster 51, Thiel 27. The second was Westminster 56, Grove City 31. The last game with Grove City marked our tenth straight conference victory and our undisputed claim to the Conference title.

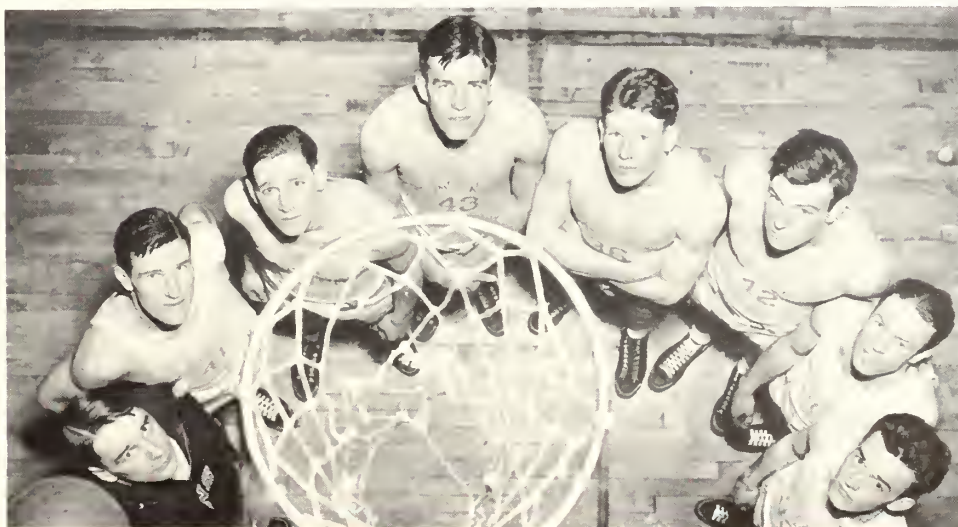

Too much credit cannot be accorded this year's team for continuing the astounding standard set by its predecessors and also to John Lawther who as coach has displayed such ability in guiding this year's championship team.

Although composed of comparatively green material, Westminister presented a winning team for the first time in four years.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 17—Not quite up to par and running against one of the best teams in the country, the Titans were defeated in their first meet by Pitt, — the score 45-15.

Morgantown, W. Va., Oct. 31—To make amends for the Pitt defeat the team made a trip to the University of West Virginia and defeated them 23-32. Klumph broke the course record.

New Wilmington, Nov. 11—Home-Coming Day the boys ran through five miles of rain, snow, and mud to defeat Muskingum by a score of 22-33.

Those who received letters were Manor, Klumph, Davis, Deichmiller, Gerstner, Snyder, and Kennedy.

Leading the A league by a good margin during the entire inter-fraternity basketball season, the Delta Phi Sigma quintet was crowned champion of the intra-mural circuit after defeating the team from Theta Upsilon Omega, runners-up.

For the second time in succession the Delts have won the intra-mural basketball championship.

Faculty-student mushball games are played annually before large crowds of non-paying customers. If our professors are good teachers they are equally poor ball players for as yet they haven't captured a decision. Last year after the smoke of battle had cleared, a tired and aching faculty team limped away, defeated 21-10 even though Professor Ben Euwema acted as umpire.

Bumps and bruises! Black eyes and stoved toes! All results of the latest innovation — soccer — truly a sport for women.

Despite the occasional misfortune of being insulted by a lustily misplaced whack, the college coeds endured a hectic season full of humorous and exciting incidents.

SOPHOMORE HOCKEY

MERMAID CLUB

Mermaids are in the swim again. Splash! Thirty maidens swam to a place in the club, under the supervision of Betty McCrory, W. A. A. Swimming chairman, and Miss Love of the Physical Education Department. Mermaids, a branch organization of W. A. A., is an innovation of the year. The club is for the enjoyment of those interested in advanced swimming. The swimming maidens gave a successful demonstration of their ability in a water show pageant, "A Night in Arabia".

With clubs and shin-guards the Junior and Senior women fought their way to the end of a successful season on the hockey field this fall. The invincible team made up of Junior and Senior women, undaunted by showers or warm weather defeated the Sophomore and Freshmen teams.

SENIOR-JUNIOR HOCKEY

SPORTS SEASON

The Gym and athletic field during the school year are popular centers of student recreational activities. Baseball, basketball, volley ball, and swimming form an attractive program of minor sports for the year.

Intra-mural athletics have grown to be one of the most attractive extra-curricular activities during the past three years.

At the present time men's teams in mushball, volley ball, water polo, horseshoes, basketball, and football are under the direction of Mr. Jack Hulme. The Delt teams excelled in three of these sports: Volley ball, horseshoes, and basketball, with the T. U. O.'s in every case a close second.

Following the precedent established in previous years, the Freshmen challenged the Sophomores to a football game, and were victorious with a score of 6-0, Mankedick scoring the winning touchdown.

Water polo was a popular form of sport among the men and great rivalry ensued between the Freshmen and the Sophomore teams. This time however, the Sophomores carried away the honors with a three point lead.

Between 85 and 90 percent of the men students of the college participated in the various Intra-mural sports during the past year. This percentage is one of the largest among the colleges in the country.

Among intra-mural sports for women, field hockey is increasing in popularity if numbers participating tell the story. In 1931, 25 women were recorded for faithful try-out; the season of 1932, produced forty, and 1933 saw 60 co-eds enjoying the sport.

Soccer had its first season in the fall of 1933, and recruited sixty-five co-eds. Every afternoon found the women's field alive with Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior women punting, passing, and drilling. An injury or two served to make them all more alert, and the season ended with everyone in good condition, and with requests for spring soccer. Class teams opposed each other in a tournament, sharing both honors and scores evenly as in hockey.

Basketball found seventy-one answering roll call and a color tournament started the intra-mural competition. From color teams class squads were chosen and class competition climaxed at the gym exhibition given by the department of physical education and the Women's Athletic Association.

In the spring, baseball brought out some who had not become interested in other sports, with the result that some forty-five participants, and class teams counted out balls and strikes in big-league style.

Swimming concludes the major forms of interest in intra-mural activities, being represented on the campus by Mermaid Club, an honorary organization for advanced swimmers. High evidence of the prominence of this sport is shown by the fact that thirty-three women passed the senior life-saving test, given this spring.

Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary debating fraternity, the oldest honorary fraternity on the campus, was installed in 1911. In 1928 Alpha Sigma Alpha, women's debating sorority amalgamated with Tau Kappa Alpha. This year Tau Kappa Alpha sponsored an inter-collegiate debate. Tau Kappa Alpha sponsored the inter-class debates.

Karux, the organization of pre-ministerial students, was organized in April 1932, at the suggestion of Dr. John Orr, and has been under his direction ever since. The club bears the New Testament Greek work for a herald or one who proclaims The Blessed Evangel.

THE HONORARIES YEAR » »

Eight honorary fraternities and societies at Westminster have as their purpose the honoring of students for achievement in various extra-curricular activities.

Of this number, Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary debating fraternity, has the distinction of being the oldest on the campus. Installed in 1911, it was organized to further the interest of debate, and since that time it has promoted various inter-collegiate and inter-class meets. This year, it sponsored inter-class debates, a debate tournament in which seven colleges took part, and a special program debate given at the morning chapel service.

Masquers, honorary dramatics fraternity, came into existence in 1924. It superseded "Bells and Buskins", dramatic fraternity then in existence, and continued its efforts to develop interest and ability among those interested in dramatics. It is the custom of Masquers to produce at least one play during the year. This year Oscar Wilde's, "The Importance of Being Earnest", was presented.

One of the youngest and yet one of the oldest organizations on the campus is Pi Delta Epsilon, men's national honorary journalistic fraternity. It became a national this year when Tau Gamma Delta, local organization founded in 1923, was installed as the Westminster chapter. Membership is restricted to the staff-heads and business managers of student publications. The purpose is to promote student interest in journalism. As Tau Gamma Delta it sponsored an all-college dance early in the year, and as Pi Delta Epsilon, was in charge of Journalism Day held April 21.

Psi Nu, women's honorary journalistic fraternity, and sister organization to the local Tau Gamma Delta was founded in 1926. Staff editors and business managers of the Holcad and Argo are eligible for membership. Plans are being made to petition a national honorary group in the near future.

Mathematics majors wishing to promote more interest in mathematics on the campus, organized in 1928 an honorary fraternity, Delta Nabla, for that purpose. Membership was restricted to mathematics majors having eleven hours of "B" average work. Since that time it has grown to be one of the most active honorary groups. Regular monthly meetings are held for which papers are prepared and discussed and the members enjoy at least two social events each year.

Target, senior women's honorary fraternity, and Sphinx, senior men's honorary group are the youngest of the honoraries, having been organized during the last semester. Both base their membership on leadership and accomplishment in college activities, and both have assumed since their organization much responsibility in furthering school projects. Activities sponsored by them were a fashion show presented by Target for the benefit of the Library Fund, and the interfraternity-intersorority sing, held in May, which was inaugurated by Sphinx.

Progress — the watchword of this century! Foreward — aim for perfection! Create something finer, greater and more perfect than has ever been conceived before!

Men's greatest efforts have been expended during this last century in a valiant battle to attain perfection. Last summer a great world's fair, a Century of Progress was held to celebrate the rapid progress made in all fields of life and activity during the past century. We, the 1935 Argo staff have done our best to catch the spirit of this exhibition and to produce upon these pages ideas and designs taken from the World's fair and sincerely hope that through our efforts, some of the spirit of this progress will be preserved through our annual.

Endeavoring to continue the trend of the modern artists and designers by presenting their conceptions of modernistic art work, and by reproductions of the style of the present day authors, we hope to convey in some small measure our conception of this forward progression.

Architectural designs of the Fair furnished the inspirations for the art sketches contained herein.

The Argo, under the guiding hand of a most able faculty advisor, Harold J. Brennan, represents the progress of Westminster through this fast moving cycle.

In 1904 Westminster entered into the new phase of progress when the Senior Class presented the first Argo for the purpose of demonstrating various sides of campus life, and for giving recognition to the extra-curricular activities. Continuing this progress in 1930, the Argo became a charter member of the National Scholastic Press Association and for four consecutive years has won high honors.

THE HOLCAD

FOUNDED IN 1884

THE NEWSPAPER OF
THE WESTMINSTER
STUDENT BODY AND
PUBLISHED EACH WEEK
OF THE COLLEGE YEAR

Member of the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of Middle Atlantic States

Member of the National Scholastic Press Association

Fifty years young! The Westminster Holcad, this year celebrated its fiftieth anniversary by changing to a five column four page tabloid style, with a rotogravure supplement. New headline styles, policies, and more strict adherence to the canons of journalism were employed, making the paper the best in history.

Considered by some to be radically revolutionary, a bit outspoken, the Holcad this year became the mouthpiece of the student body. The editorial policy, praised and condemned, is indicative of a new relation between the students and the college.

Unfettered by faculty and administration censorship, the Holcad became a typical student paper. The staff, facing the facts as they were, followed the utterance of Charles A. Dana: "Men must be at liberty to say in print whatever they have in mind to say, provided it wrongs no one."

Back of every editorial, every news campaign there has been one thought in mind: Make Westminster the very best college possible. The staff, retiring in April, 1934, did its part by doing its best.

The Holcad at the beginning of the year announced its annual platform for the year:

- 1 New library building and endowment for needed books.
- 2 Endowment to provide scholarships for worthy upper class students.
- 3 Student governing organizations.
- 4 Landscaping and clearing of the lower campus.
- 5 Honorary society for recognition of student activity, leadership, and achievement.

This platform has been successful in that everything proposed has been completed or well under way.

May future staffs, piloting the destinies of the Holcad over the next fifty years, do their work as well.

NEWS BUREAU

GRAHAM

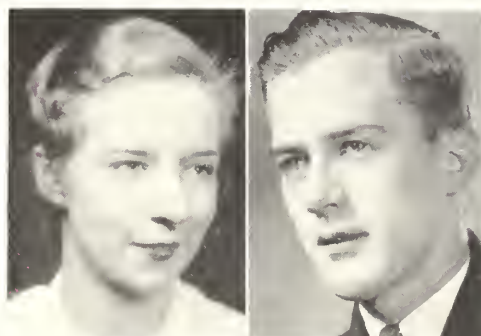

MICHMERHUIZEN

"Sees all, hears all, tells all." That's the motto, purpose and platform of the Westminster College News Bureau. It has been the official college information bureau since 1927 and is under the supervision of Professor R. X. Graham.

Approximately 600 newspaper stories a year, or an average of two stories a day are sent to more than 100 newspapers of the district. Stories deal with all activities of the college. About one-third of them are concerned with athletics while the remaining two-thirds are general. The News Bureau also sends out some 300 photographs of students and college activities and 2000 newspaper mats each year.

In addition to daily and weekly newspaper coverage, the News Bureau supplies stories and pictures to church publications, athletic yearbooks, professional and trade journals, and the various press associations and syndicates. The bureau is a member of the American College Publicity Association.

THE HANDBOOK

In keeping with Westminster's policy of making freshmen students feel that they are really a part of Westminster, the first year men and women are presented at the beginning of the school year with the Freshman Handbook.

Popularly known as the little blue book that drives those freshman blues away, this interesting and helpful publication, compiled by the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. supplies a ready answer to the numerous questions that constantly confront new students. In it can be found information pertaining to school rules, sports and social activities, fraternities and their histories, and numerous other matters. By no other quick and reliable method can so much information, concerning our school and its component parts, be obtained than by reading this book.

It provides an incentive for active participation in extra curricular activities, and does much to guide the new student towards leading a better Christian life.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Front Row: Newell, Meider, Reed.

A change in policy this year resulted in the organization of a Student Council. The council is composed of four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one non-voting freshman, each selected by his class. Its aim is to discuss student problems and make for closer cooperation and understanding between the student body and the administration.

SENATE AND ADVISORY BOARD

Back Row: Porter, Murray, Snyder, Morrow, Reid, Forsman, Fox.
Front Row: McCrory, Hess, Melhorn, Metzler, Luckhardt.

The recently elected women's organization, the Senate, played a very important part in obtaining the many new privileges granted women students this year. The body has legislative and judicial powers and possesses authority to rule on matters concerning women students. Private sessions are held weekly to discuss new ideas and advance solution on student government.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Front Row: Kennedy, Meider, Young, McGeorge.

Westminster's Greek fraternal organizations revived the Interfraternity council last fall. Some of the major accomplishments of the season include agreement to make our professors' lives easier by keeping neophyte initiations out of classrooms and permission for students with decent grades to retain cars on campus if allowed by the pater. Primarily the court's major function is to promote cooperation and amicable relationships between the college and the fraternities.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

Front Row: Young, Isaho, Kuerner, Porter, Rumbaugh.

Two representatives from each of the seven women's fraternities on the campus compose the Pan Hellenic Council. Acting as the intermediary for the college women, this group strives toward cooperation of the different groups and the proper regulation of rushing. The office of the president rotates annually among the several fraternities.

Pan-Hellenic Council sponsors an annual dance in the spring at which time the men of the college are guests.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Middle Row: Ewalt, Glendenning, Jacobsen, Gehr, Herchenroether, Harper.
Front Row: Douglas, Gerstner, Christy, Todd, Dr. Orr.

Another organization predominantly Christian in character is the college Young Men's Christian Association. Their membership includes fifty men whose activities include the supervision of the Handbook, formation of gospel teams, sponsoring of the college tennis tournament and the all-college "Who's Who." The Y.M.C.A. promotes the growth in Christian faith and character to prepare college men for a spiritual, useful and worthwhile life.

YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Back Row: Newell, Ralston, Byers, Wilson.
Front Row: Murray, Hazlett, Judson, Black, Kildoo.

The Y. W. C. A. holds its prominence on the campus because of the many activities it sponsors. The Y. W. seeks partially to provide social and religious life for all girls in the school. Its purpose is to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God. It aims to help more girls to live creatively.

YOUNG PEOPLES CHRISTIAN UNION

Front Row: Hazlett, Brownlee, Jacobsen, Gerstner, Scott

Representing another phase of Christian work on the campus is the Young Peoples' Christian Union. This organization meets regularly every Sabbath evening in the United Presbyterian church to discuss every day problems of Christian interest pertaining to student life. Prominent speakers are frequently engaged to lend color to the meetings. The Y. P. C. U. gives an interesting phase to social as well as spiritual life.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association, a branch organization of the Athletic Federation of College Women was formed in 1931. Its aim is to promote athletics, create the love of sports and foster the ideal of good sportsmanship. W. A. A. sponsored two successful Sports Days, a College Sports Day in the winter, and a High School Play Day late in the spring.

WESTMINSTER COLLEGE BAND

Practicing, parading, and playing constituted the major duties of the Westminster College band throughout the school year. The band appeared at all the athletic functions—marching over the gridiron and basketball court rendering a variety of musical selections. Its repertoire consisted of college songs, selections of well known classical composers, and original orchestrations of popular pieces. The latter selections were widely acclaimed by the spectators especially at the pep meetings where melodious tunes produced enlightened spirits and confidence for the impending fray.

Since being organized last year the Westminster band has made rapid strides in development having grown rapidly both in size and popularity. At the present time the membership is twenty-five and under the capable direction of Professor Donald Cameron. Last fall uniforms of blue and white were presented to each member of the organization lending an increased attractiveness to its appearance.

This spring, not to be outdone by other musical organizations, the college band presented a concert in the gymnasium for the benefit of the Library fund. Participation in music week constituted the last function, the band giving a concert on May 9 in the chapel.

Congratulations to the band for its rapid ascendancy. March on to further heights!

ORCHESTRA

UNDER DIRECTION OF DONALD O. CAMERON

Remarkable progress has been made during the past year by the Westminster College orchestra. This organization, conducted by Professor Donald O. Cameron, furnished music for many of the college activities. The orchestra helped diversify the program of the dramatic productions with overtures in the Community Hall for the plays "You and I", "Passing of the Third Floor Back" and "Importance of Being Earnest". It also presented its annual concert during music week which came during the latter part of May.

Twenty students constitute the orchestra's membership giving adequate evidence to the progress that is gradually being made in this field of musical endeavor.

BRASS QUARTET

UNDER DIRECTION OF DONALD CAMERON

From high-brow to low-brow—Wagner, Lesgt and Griez to the latest hits from Tin Pan Alley—these tunes emanate from the Conservatory—the Brass Quartet—the novelty of the music department created this year.

Professor Donald Cameron, besides being director creates special arrangements of the newest selections. The members of the quartet are Curtis Artman, first trumpet; William Kuntzler, second trumpet; Willard George, Trombone and William Lillich, French Horn. Earl Johnston serves in the capacity of accompanist.

CHAPEL CHOIR

UNDER DIRECTION OF GORDON B. NEVIN

Organized in 1921, the Chapel Choir has the distinction of being the oldest musical organization on the campus. It acts as the medium through which the student receives definite training and experience in hymnology and church choir music.

Rendition of special selections at chapel services and accompanying college gospel team to nearby cities to conduct church services constitute its main duties. The membership is eighteen and is under the direction of Professor Gordon B. Nevin, organist.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

UNDER DIRECTION OF ALAN B. DAVIS

During recent years there has been a great revival of interest in the richness of the literature of the madrigal period, and with it a marked growth in the cultivation of A Cappella singing. This has been especially true in America since the coming of the English Singers. A Cappella singing was further encouraged in this country by the fine work of the Russian Symphonic Choir. These and other influences of high choral practices have awakened the educational institutions to the value of fine choral music. The Westminster College A Cappella Choir was organized this year with a view to the development of the best in mixed choral singing. The choir is under the direction of Professor Alan B. Davis, Director of Music.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

UNDER DIRECTION OF ADA PEABODY

The Westminster Women's Glee Club, a singing body of sixty voices, is one of the outstanding musical organizations on the campus. Through membership in the Glee Club the women have a splendid opportunity for studying and singing the best of choral literature. The quality of their work during the year has been shown by their inspirational singing of music both sacred and secular. In chapel services their programs have been greatly appreciated. One of their most impressive performances was given as a part of the Christmas Candlelight Service sponsored by the College Y. P. C. U. The true caliber of artistic execution was evident in their annual spring concert during National Music Week, and by their splendid presentation of the Dramusical, "Following Foster's Footsteps", written by our own Gordon Balch Nevin.

"THEATRE OF THE SOUL" . . .

ALL THE WORLD'S A STAGE AND
THE MEN AND WOMEN ON IT
ARE MERELY PLAYERS

"PASSING OF THE THIRD FLOOR BACK"

The Little Theatre closed its 1932-33 season on June 3 with a repetition of the play "You and I" for the alumni. Students and patrons had enthusiastically received this Philip Barry production at its previous performance April 18.

On Homecoming Day the alumni players presented two clever one-act plays. "Apartments to Let", by Elliot Nugent and Norman Lindsay, was presented by New Castle alumni and Theresa Halburn's "Enter the Hero", was given by Sharon alumni.

Several groups of one-acts were presented by the students. The first group consisted of "Hearts Enduring"—John Erskine, directed by Alberta Miller, "The Travelers"—Booth Tarkington, directed by Sally Haney, and "A Kiss in the Dark"—John Buckstone, directed by Helen McCuen. The second group consisted of "The Marriage Proposal"—Anton Tchekov, directed by Helen Baerman, and "The Theatre of the Soul"—Nickolas Evreinor, directed by Helen Weingartner.

The last group was formed by "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife"—Anatole France, directed by Charlotte Bartlett, "Three Wishes", directed by Jane Holland and "Sparkin"—E. P. Conkle.

"YOU AND I"

The first long play of the season was Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest", presented by the Masquers' fraternity. The All-College Play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back", by Jerome K. Jerome, attracted much attention and widespread interest. A rather unusual play, it had the distinction of being the only one of its kind on the Little Theatre's program. It was beautifully done by the students and accepted in the right spirit by the audience.

Out-of-town plays have been given at New Castle, "Three Wishes", "Marriage Proposal"; Pittsburgh "Spring", "For Distinguished Service"; Mercer "Kiss in the Dark", "Marriage Proposal"; and Canton "For Distinguished Service".

All in all the Little Theatre has had a very successful season as a result of the careful supervision and helpful suggestions of Prof. A. J. Cordray.

Its productions have all been plays of exceptional interest.

QUADRANGLE

Back Row: Ghena, Patton, Caughey, Esther Dinsmore.

Front Row: Bracken, Heyman, Brown, Lay, Jacobs, Fitzpatrick.

For some time it was felt that there was a need on Westminster's campus for an organized group of the women not affiliated with any social sorority. To meet this need, a group of thirty women formed Quadrangle last fall. Parties were held through the year, being climaxed with the spring formal dinner dance at the Castleton Hotel in New Castle. Mrs. E. H. Freeman sponsors Quadrangle, which meets monthly in the Hillside Parlors.

NON-FRATERNITY

Third Row: Davis, Weller, Rushworth, Obeister, Butler, Baldwin.

Rapid strides along all lines of endeavor are being accomplished by the Non-Fraternity group since their initial appearance on the campus two years ago.

This group holds the honor of maintaining a higher scholastic average than the fraternities. Besides being active scholastically, the Non-Frats have been successful athletically, having competed in the annual rounds of intramural sports.

PROPHECY

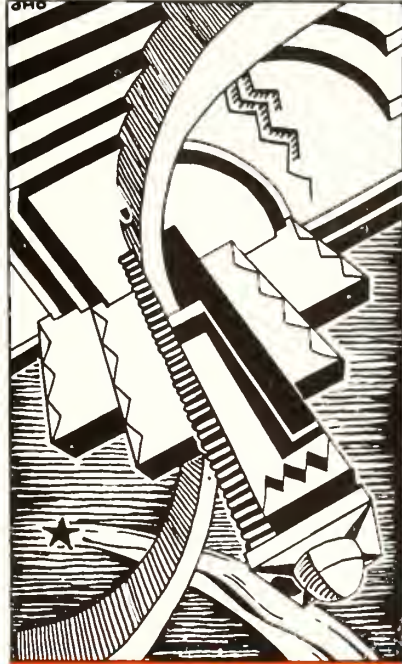

"For I dipt into the future
far as human eye can see,
Saw the vision of the world
And the wonder that would be.
Not in vain the distance beckons,
Forward, forward let us range,
Let the great world spin forever,
Down the ringing grooves of change."

With the passage of time Comes growth and fulness, and to old Westminster has come these and an honored distinction
Born of able service. Amid a changing and expanding world her ideals have demonstrated an abiding and satisfying permanence.
Time has dealt well with the beauty of her campus, and the vision of her founders.

In the years as yet unborn Westminster will be called, and answer to a larger summons:
an increased usefulness and service. The shape of society and institutions to come will call for a changed, and altered program, but residing still within the structure of the deathless ideal of Christian service.

A larger plant and a more beautiful campus will come with the years, as the cherished dream becomes substance,
Other buildings will be raised to join the present ones, as Westminster attains her full estate: the treasure house of ideals and the habitation of distinguished teachers and sincere scholars.

Congratulations ... to the Graduates of Westminster!

Your completion of four years of hard, tedious work is a real achievement. The G. C. Murphy Company congratulates you, and wishes you every success.

Our Belief Is:

The Foundation of Success Is Service

"He is paid most who serves best" is true in every field of endeavor.

The size of a company alone does not determine its service to a community, but SERVICE to a community alone determines the size of a company. Likewise, the service an individual renders to his fellow men will determine his place; the real measure of his SUCCESS.

The G. C. Murphy Company is earnestly striving to be of service to the student body of Westminster.

Wholesome confections, delicious lunches, soda fountain refreshments, fine quality hosiery, stationery items, ladies' and misses' wear, men's and boys' wear, and a multitude of other every day necessities—all priced to suit the student purse, is our every day service.
